Membership Directory 2020

The contents of this directory are from information held at 30th June 2020.

In accordance with the current General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR), only those Members' who have given their permission are included. Entries listed by name only indicate that permission to publish has not been received. Members who would like to add or delete their contact details from publication to other Members, should contact the IDS office by email or by post (details below).

In due course we aim to make this information available amongst Members only through a secure area of the IDS website. This will mean the information is current.

The Membership Directory is copyright of the International Dendrology Society and may not be used for commercial purposes (mailing lists etc.). Neither should the information be shared with non-members. It is intended as a private resource for members who may wish to contact each other about dendrological matters and for no other purpose.

The next issue of the Membership Directory is due for publication in 2022.

The membership database is managed by the administrative office:
